Defectivarum et Anomalarum,

Q U A R U M

R A D I C E S haud facile investigantur: olim a Gul. Robertson editus; nunc autem recognitus, auctus, et his concordantiis aptatus.

LET the English Man, who is learning Hebrew, observe,

I. That, in this Index, the Hebrew Letters without Points are the Root from which the Word is derived; and that the Numbers, which immediately follow the Root, refer to the Numbers under the same Root in the Concordance, directing to the Place where the Word stands there.

II. That the Abbreviations are thus to be understood, abs. in the absolute Form; aff. with an Affix, or Affixes; apoc. by Apocope; Ben. the Participle Benoni; comp. compounded; constr. in Construction; contr. contracted; def. defectively; du. the dual Number; fæm. or f. the feminine Gender; gem. or geminat. doubled; fut. Future Tense; imp. Imperative Mood; inf. Infinitive Mood; m. or masc. the Masculine Gender; No. a Noun or Nouns; par. or parag. Paragogic; part. a Particle; pl. or p. the plural Number; præf. with a Prefix; præt. the Præter Tense; Rad. or R. the Root, or radical; red. redund. redundant; sing. or f. the singular Number; Vide, See. For Example; אַחֲרָיָהּ fut. Pihel 1. f. affix. אֶחָד 8. read thus; אַחֲרָיָהּ is the first Person singular of the future Tense of Pihel, with an Affix, from the Root אָחַד, and is to be found at Number 8, under that Root in the Concordance. Again, אַחֲרֵיכֶם, אַחֲרָיו, &c. No. f. fæm. אַחֲרֵי, aff. אֶחָד 23, 19, 20. That is; those two Words, with others of the same Sort, are Nouns of the singular Number and feminine Gender, formed from the Noun אַחֲרֵי, with Affixes, from the Root אָחַד, and are to be found in the Concordance at the Numbers 23, 19, 20, under that Root.

III. When a Word, beginning with any one, or two of these Prefixes, שׁ, מׁ, לׁ, יׁ, הׁ, בׁ, cannot be found in the Index under the Letter of the Prefix, as under בׁ, הׁ, &c. then look for it under the next Letter to the Prefix. And if the next Letter also be a Prefix, and the Word cannot be found under that Letter, then look for it under the third Letter. For Example; seek for בְּחֵבֵי, not under בׁ, but under הׁ; seek for וְכָל, not under וׁ, but under כׁ; וְיַעֲקֹב, not under הׁ, but under יׁ, &c. Again, look for וּבְאֶזְרוֹעַ not under וׁ or בׁ, but under אׁ. Look for וְהַיֵּשֶׁב not under וׁ or הׁ, but under יׁ, &c.

IV. When the Vowels וׁ, יׁ or יׁ, stand in the Middle of Words, those Words are sometimes differently written, by either leaving out, or retaining וׁ or יׁ; after this Manner: לִלְאֹת or לִלְאֹת, זִנְה or זִנְהָ, הַמִּשִּׁית or הַמִּשִּׁית. Thus the Writing in the Bible, which the Student is reading, may differ from the Writing in the Index. Therefore in this Case, when he cannot find a Word with וׁ or יׁ he must look for it without them, or the Reverse.

V. Several Words, in this Index, are put together under one Head; as יָמִי, יָמִי, יָמִי, יָמִי, יָמִי, יָמִי, &c. Therefore, if the Word, the Student is seeking, is not the first in the Line, he must cast his Eye along the Line, to see if it is not the second, or the third, &c.

VI. The Roots of such Words as are not in this Index, may be found by grammatical Analogy to those that are in it. מִשְׁכִּיתָם is not in the Index: but the Student will be naturally directed to look for it, in the Concordance, under the same Root with מִשְׁכִּיתָם, which is in the Index.

N. B. I have written Pibel, Pahul or Pubal with an b, because, after Buxtorf, they are so written in the Concordance.

אָבָה 3.

[To the Explication add;] According to Schultens the primary Notion of this Word is, to bend, to incline towards. Hence it may be transferred to the Mind, and signify to be inclined towards in Will, Desire and Affection. He supposeth that אָבָה [Sign. II.] in Prov. 23. 29. denoteth an extravagant Inclination, and translateth it thus: who hath Lust? [See R. 28.] who hath Extravagance? who hath Contentions? &c. And he judgeth it necessary so to render it, because Solomon is there speaking, not of the bad Consequences, but of the present ill Effects of excessive Drinking.

אָבָה 7.

Nº 34. After Wheels, Jer. 18. 3. add [Here, probably, it was originally written אָבָה. Root 100: 7.]

אָהָה 23. Sign. I.

[Let this be the English Explication.] A Tent or Pavilion, a moveable Habitation. Such were the Habitations in which Mankind at first dwelt; and being considered as the Seat and Centre of all their Enjoyments, a Man's Tabernacle, or Dwelling-place, is put for all that he hath, or enjoyeth in Life, Job 8. 22. — 19. 12. Prov. 14. 11. A Man is quite ruined when he is plucked from his Tabernacle, or Dwelling-place, Psal. 52. 5. Under the same Notion a City is represented as a Tabernacle, Isai. 33. 20. The Sun's Sphere and Place in the Heavens is his Tabernacle, Psal. 19. 4.

אָוִי 28.

[To the Explication add;] Schultens taketh this Word, in Prov. 23. 29, for a Substantive, formed from אָוִי, to desire earnestly, R. 26; and translateth it Lust; Who hath Lust? who hath Extravagance? who hath Contentions? &c. See R. 3.

אָוִי 29.

[To the Explication add;] In Prov. 7. 22, most probably it should be read אָוִי or אָוִי, a Hart, Deer. R. 55. 39. See the learned Dr. Hunt's Dissertation on this Text, and R. 1362. Sign. II. To the Explication add; Sometimes it denotes Probability, or good Hope, Isai. 37. 4. Amos 5. 15. Zeph. 2. 3.

אָוִי 30. Sign. II.

[Let this be the Explication.] אָוִי is here put for אָוִי; [R. 437.] and signifieth a Sufficiency, I. Of Substance or Wealth, Hof. 12. 8. II. Of natural Strength or Vigor, Isai. 40. 29. Thus it is also applied to God, Isai. 40. 26. Coccejus. III. The First-born are considered as the Strength, or chief Support, of Families, Gen. 49. 3. Deut. 21. 17. Psal. 78. 51. — 105. 36. IV. It is applied to Strength of Mind, Resolution or Faith, Hof. 12. 3.

אָוִי 31.

[Let this be the Explication.] To hasten, to urge or press one. Figuratively, applied to a Place too narrow for the Inhabitants, and which therefore presseth or urgeth them, as it were, to leave it.

אָוִי 32.

[Let this be the Explication.] To shine, to enlighten. I. To enlighten the Eyes is, (1.) To revive or restore the Spirits or Life when sunk, 1 Sam. 14. 29. Psal. 13. 3. Hence, the Light of the Eyes is Vigor of Spirit, Psal. 38. 10. (2.) To give Comfort, Encouragement or Hope, Ezra 9. 8. (3.) To enlighten the Mind with Knowledge and Wisdom, Psal. 19. 8. — 119. 130. II. The Light is put for, (1.) The Day, Job 26. 10. (2.) The Sun — 31. 26. (3.) Lightning, — 37. 3. Hab. 3. 11. (4.) The Morning, Neh. 8. 3. (5.) Life, or a Being in the World, Job 3. 20. (6.) A Fire, Isai. 44. 16. — 47. 14. Ezek. 5. 2. Hence, to make to shine, is to kindle Fire, or to set on Fire, Isai. 27. 11. Mal. 1. 10. (7.) That which enlightens the Mind with Knowledge and Wisdom, Prov. 6. 23. Isai. 42. 6. (8.) By an elegant Figure, Light signifieth Prosperity, Power, Wealth, Honour, Pleasure, Joy, and all Manner of Happiness, either in this or the other World, Ezra 8. 16. Job 18. 6. Psal. 49. 19. — 97. 11. — 118. 27. Isai. 60. 1. [Arise, shine, be joyful.] Hence, to be enlightened, is to be in a State of Enjoyment, Job 33. 30. Or to be illustrious, glorious, Psal. 76. 4. Light in Darkness is Encouragement, Comfort or good Hope in Adversity, Psal. 112. 4. III. The Light of a Person's Face or Countenance is his kind and favourable Regards, Job 29. 24. [If I laughed on them, they were not secure; and the light of my Countenance, my cheerful Aspect, they cast not down, did not oblige me to change it into severe Looks. Schult.] Psal. 44. 3. Prov. 16. 15. Hence, to make the Face to be lightome, or to shine upon a Person, is to be kind or favourable to him, Numb. 6. 25. Psal. 80. 3. — 119. 135. Dan. 9. 17. Eccl. 8. 1. [A man's Wisdom maketh his face to shine, maketh him kind, friendly

A SUPPLEMENT to the EXPLICATION

friendly and courteous.] The Light of the Lord is his Favour, Blessing, Direction, Assistance, Job 29. 3. Psal. 36. 9. —43. 3. Isai. 2. 5. IV. To bring to Light, is to discover, manifest, to expose to open View, what was concealed or obscure, Job 12. 22. —28. 11. Zeph. 3. 5. V. A Den or Cavern, N° 66, is Light introduced into the Body of the Earth; or Earth opened to the Light. VI. באור, N° 33, Amos 8. 8, belongs to יאר R. 726: 6. VII. ארת Herbs, N° 50, rather comes from ארה, R. 111, to pluck Fruit or Herbs in order to eat them: And so it signifies properly Pot-herbs or Sallads.

אח 40. Sign. III.

[After Ezek. 18. 10. add;] The Word in this Text belongs to אח, R. 42: 1. And so may אח in Ezek. 21. 15. [ah, it is made bright; or, it is made brother to Lightning, i. e. it is made like unto Lightning.]

אהח 43. Sign. I.

[To the Explication add;] Job 26. 9. [He boldeth back the face of his throne. Rather; he joineth, fasteneth firmly together the Face of his Throne, i. e. the Sky.]

אהר 45.

[To the Explication add;] As a Verb it signifies to come after, to tarry behind, to defer, to delay, to stay when others are gone, N° 87, &c.

אי 51.

[N° 9, after Hof. 13. 10, add;] So also, Ver. 14. O Death, where are thy plagues? O Grave, where is thy destruction?

אכ 63.

[After verily, &c. add;] This Word, I make no doubt, is the same as אכ, from און [R. 835: 1, 10.] denoting Stability, Firmness, Certainty, the א being heemantic or prosthetic. And as אכ is frequently used with the Prefix ל, [see R. 835: 19, &c.] so, I apprehend, אכ is found in the like Construction, 2 Sam. 23. 5. לאכ, unto Certainty, for certain, certainly. It is commonly written, לאכ, and translated, Although my house be not so with God, &c. But, setting aside the Punctuation, it may be written לאכ, and translated thus; For certainly my house is with God; seeing he hath made with me an everlasting covenant, &c. The Preposition עם, with, hath sometimes an emphatical Sense, and denoteth particular Regard and Care; Deut. 22. 2. it shall be with thee. 1 Sam. 2. 21. The child Samuel grew before, עם with, the Lord. Psal. 139. 18. When I awake I am still with thee, as the Object of thy special Care. See Dr. Gray's Dissertation on the last Words of David.

אל 66.

After 1 Sam. 27. 10, N° 4, add; [אל may here be set for אן. See R. 82. Sign. II.]

אלה 68.

N° 29. After Deut. 28. 32, add; [See R. 55: 3.]

אלף 73.

N° 40. After Cant. 4. 4, add; [See R. 2079: 6.]

אמץ 79.

[To the Explication add;] The Colour of the Horses, Zech. 6. 3, 7. [N° 28, 29.] and it's Connection with the Root is uncertain.

אמר 80.

[Let this be the Explication.] To speak, to say, to talk. I. To command, to appoint, to order, 1 Kin. 11. 18. 2 Chron. 35. 21. Job 20. 29. [and the heritage of his Appointment, i. e. which is appointed to him of God.] Isai. 38. 15. [he hath both spoken, appointed this Disorder, and himself hath done it.] II. To speak emphatically, to relate as great, surprising, illustrious, Psal. 145. 6, 11. [They shall speak of, relate as great and most illustrious, the glory of thy Kingdom.] Hence, in Hithp. (N° 100, 101.) to talk big, to boast, to speak of one's self as great in any respect. III. To assure, Isai. 3. 10. [Say ye to, assure, the righteous.] IV. In Hiphil, it is to make or set one's self on purpose, deliberately and solemnly to speak, or declare; N° 98, 99. Deut. 26. 17, 18. [Thou hast avouched, thou hast made thyself to declare, i. e. thou hast on set Purpose and solemnly declared, the Lord this day to be thy God. And the Lord hath avouched, hath on set Purpose and solemnly declared, thee this day to be his peculiar people.] V. To speak to or with, is to assent to or agree with, Job 34. 34. [Let men of understanding tell me, Men of Heart will say unto me [will agree with me,] and a wise man will hearken unto me.] Psal. 27. 8. [When thou saidst, Seek ye my Face; my heart said unto thee, Thy face, Lord, will I seek.] † To thee said, assented, my Heart. Seek ye my Face: Thy Face, O Lord, will I seek. That is to say; my Heart assented unto thee, thus: Thou saidst, Seek ye my Face; my Heart replied, Thy face, O Lord, will I seek.] VI. To speak in, with the Heart is, (1.) To meditate, ponder, consider, Gen. 38. 11. [for he said, considered, lest he should die also.] —42. 4. Exod. 13. 17. Psal. 4. 4. [commune with your own heart.] Hof. 7. 2. Psal. 38. 16. [For I said, Hear me, lest otherwise, &c. Rather; For I have considered what I should do, lest otherwise, &c.] (2.) To judge, to be of Opinion, to imagine, conceit, Deut. 8. 17. Psal. 10. 6, 11, 13. Zeph. 1. 12. (3.) To conclude, Ecclef. 2. 15. VII. To design, to intend, Exod. 2. 14. 2 Sam. 21. 16. 2 Chron. 13. 8. VIII. To hope, Ecclef. 8. 17. [though a wise man think, hopeth, to know it.] IX. To resolve, Deut. 17. 14. [and shalt say, resolve, I will set a King over me.] Psal. 32. 5. —39. 1. [I said, resolved.] X. As a Noun, [N° 102, &c.] it signifies, Speech, what is said, a Saying, Command, Decree, &c. A Promise, Psal. 138. 2. [thou hast magnified thy word, thy Promise of Favour and Blessings, above all thy name, above all other Displays of thy Power, Wisdom and Goodness.] A Thing, Affair, Matter, Business, Job 22. 28.

[To the Explication add;] It is sometimes used peculiarly to denote Independency of Being; of Fortunes or Prosperity, Deut. 32. 39. [I, I am he, and there is no God with me.] Isai. 47. 8, 10. Zeph. 2. 15. [I, and none beside me.]

אנה 83*.

[Let this be the Explication.] To be in great Sorrow; to mone in Distress; a Moning. Isai. 29. 2. Lam. 2. 5. האניה ואניה a Moning, and moning, i. e. a continual Moning without Intermission.

אנס

[To the Explication add;] Schultens adds the Notion of Pride and Arrogance, Prov. 27. 4. —29. 22.

נק 88. Sign. II.

[Let this be the Explication.] To groan, as Men do that are mortally wounded, Jer. 51. 52. Ezek. 26. 15. —24. 17. [Forbear to cry † groan in silence, or silently, i. e. privately, in secret.]

נס 92.

[Let this be the Explication.] To take in, bring in, gather in: Properly connoting some Place or Situation into which Things or Persons are taken or gathered. I. To take, or gather in Fruits, Food, Wealth, Gen. 6. 21. Exod. 23. 10, 16. 2 Kin. 22. 4. Ecclef. 2. 26. Job 27. 19. [The rich man lieth down, but he shall not be gathered, &c. † He lieth down rich, but nothing is gathered in, i. e. nothing of his Wealth is gathered, taken into the other World; he openeth his eyes, and he is not, i. e. he findeth himself ruined, or stript of all his Enjoyments.] II. To take or bring Persons or Things into a City, House, Camp, &c. Exod. 9. 19. Numb. 12. 15. Deut. 22. 2. Job 2. 18. —20. 4. Judg. 19. 15. [That took him into his house.] Numb. 11. 30. plied in the following Instances, Gen. 49. 33. [gathered his feet into the bed.] Numb. 11. 32. [gathered the quails into Vessels.] —19. 9. [shall gather the ashes into a Vessel.] 1 Sam. 14. 19. [Withdraw, take in, thy band, take it into thy Bosom, or put it under thy Garment again [R. 1149.] where it may rest unactive, i. e. proceed no further.] 2 Sam. 14. 14. [water spilt—cannot be gathered up, taken into the Vessel, again.] Prov. 30. 4. [gathered the wind into his fist.] Isai. 10. 14. [gathereth eggs into a Basket, have I gathered the Wealth and Power of the whole earth into my Possession.] —17. 5. [gathereth into his hand the corn.] Jer. 47. 6. [O sword of the Lord, put up thyself, gather, betake thyself, into thy scabbard.] Ezek. 24. 4. [gather the pieces thereof into it, the Pot.] To be gathered or brought into the Grave, or amongst deceased Ancestors, Gen. 49. 29. Numb. 27. 13. 2 Kin. 22. 20. Isai. 57. 1. [merciful men are taken away, gathered into the Grave.] To be gathered into the Church, or brought again to God, Isai. 49. 5. IV. To take in, is to take away, with respect to the Place, or Party from which any Thing is taken, Gen. 30. 23. [hath taken away, gathered in, my reproach.] Isai. 4. 1. Judg. 18. 25. [and thou lose, gather in, take away, i. e. be the Occasion of taking away, thy life.] 1 Sam. 15. 6. [lest I destroy you, take you away, with them.] Job 34. 14. [gather unto himself, take away, his Spirit.] Psal. 104. 29. —26. 9. [Gather not, take not away, my soul with sinners.] —85. 3. [taken away, taken in, all thy wrath.] Isai. 16. 10. [gladness is taken away] Jer. 16. 5. —48. 33. Isai. 57. 1. [taken away, gathered, taken in, from the evil to come.] —60. 20. [moon shall withdraw itself, take itself in.] Joel 2. 10. Hence, by an Hypallage, to recover a man of, † to take away a Man from, his leprosy, is to take away the Leprosy from a Man, 2 Kin. 5. 3, 6, 7. V. The Rere-ward, N° 66, 67, 68, is the hindermost part of an Army or Body of Men, which, as it were, bring in, or drive before them all the rest, and serve as a Guard in the Rear. VI. Where נס signifies to consume, it takes its Sense rather from נס R. 1243. or from ספה R. 1283.

Ibid. N° 4, read, and gather—together Exod. 3. 16. and shalt gather in.

[Let this be the Explication.] I. To bind or confine Men or Beasts with Bands, Gen. 49. 11. Judg. 15. 13. Ezek. 3. 25. Isai. 22. 3. [All thy rulers are fled together, they are bound by the Archers: all that are found in thee are bound together, which have fled from far. † All thy rulers are fled together from the Bow [of the Enemy:] they are bound [as Captives;] all that are found in thee are bound together, [though] they have fled to a distant Place.] (1.) To bind, yoke or put Horses, &c. to a Chariot, Carriage, &c. Gen. 46. 29. [made ready, bound, his chariot to the Horses] 1 Kin. 18. 44. Hof. 10. 10. [when they shall bind themselves, &c. † when they [their Enemies] shall bind them [in the Plough.] (2.) To saddle, harness or accoutre Horses, Jer. 46. 4. (3.) To gird or tie on Sword, Neb. 4. 18. (4.) To gird the Loins with a Girdle, Job 12. 18. [Schultens understands this as a Mark of Captivity or Servitude, apprehending that the Girdle here signifies the Band wherewith Captives were bound, or such an Apron as Slaves wore. Which suits the Place very well.] (5.) To draw Men up in Battle-array, to bind them together by confining them to their Stations and Order in Rank and File, 1 Kin. 20. 14. 2 Chron. 13. 3. (6.) To bind, confine or keep in a Prison, Gen. 40. 3. —42. 16. 2 Kin. 17. 4. II. Figuratively; (1.) To be bound, tied up by, or laid under the Restraint of a religious Obligation, Numb. 30. 3, 4, 5, &c. Ezek. 20. 37. [into the bond, or Discipline, Chastisement [R. 766.] of the covenant.] (2.) To bind or restrain by Government, Authority or Commands, Psal. 105. 22. (3.) To be bound or confined by Admiration, Affection or Allurement, Ecclef. 7. 26. Cant. 7. 5. (4.) To be bound with Affliction or Divine Judgments, Job 36. 8, 13.

A solitary, desolate, sad, afflicted Condition, Isai. 27. 10. Jer. 15. 17. Lam. 1. 1. —3. 28. II. Sometimes it denotes a State of Safety and Security, separate from, and unmolested by others, Deut. 33. 28. Jer. 49. 31. III. It is used to signify the separate Condition of the Israelites, as God had singled them out, and distinguished them from other Nations, Numb. 23. 9. Mic. 7. 14. [Feed thy people, —the flock—which dwell solitarily, + alone, in the wood of the World.] Other Senses are easily understood from the English Translations.

[To the Explication add;] It is applied, I. To the Cleaving of Wood, Gen. 22. 3. II. To the miraculous Cleaving or Dividing of the Sea, Exod. 14. 16. Psal. 78. 13. III. To the Cleaving of the Ground, Numb. 16. 31. Zeck. 14. 4. IV. To the Cleaving, i. e.

tearing, rending or bursting the human Body, or any Part of it, 2 Kin. 2. 24. 2 Chron. 25. 12. Job 32. 19. Ezek. 29. 7. Hof. 13. 8. V. To the Cleaving or separating the Sides of an Inclosure, in order to make a Passage into it; particularly, to break through the Walls of a City when taken in War, 2 Kin. 25. 4. 2 Chron. 32. 1. Ezek. 13. 11. — 30. 16. No shall be rent asunder, shall be broken up, a free Passage shall be made through the Walls for the invading Army to enter, i. e. it shall be taken by Storm.] Hence, (1.) To penetrate, or cleave a Way through, an Army, 2 Sam. 23. 16. 2 Kin. 3. 26. (2.) To make an Inroad into a Country, so as to gain the Possession of it, 2 Chron. 21. 17. Isai. 7. 6. [let us make a breach therein for us, i. e. let us powerfully invade it, and make ourselves masters of it.] VI. To the Cleaving or Opening of an Inclosure, in order to make a Passage out of it; particularly, (1.) To cleave or open a Passage for Waters to flow out of the Earth, Gen. 7. 11. [the fountains of the great deep were broken up, i. e. were rent or split to make a Passage for the Water to issue forth.] Judg. 15. 19. Job 28. 10. [He cutteth out, or cleaveth a Passage for, rivers in the rock.] Psal. 74. 15. Prov. 3. 20. Isai. 35. 6. Hab. 3. 9. [thou didst cleave the earth with rivers; or, thou didst cleave Rivers in the Earth, i. e. thou didst open the Rivers a Passage out of the Earth.] (2.) A Cloud (compared to a Bag full of Water) is said to rend or spilt asunder, when the Water is discharged from it, Job 26. 8. (3.) The Light breaks forth in a Morning, as through the split Sides of an Inclosure, which before confined it, Isai. 58. 8. (4.) When the young one is hatched, it breaks through the separated Sides of the Egg, Isai. 34. 15. — 59. 5. Hence, Schultens (upon Prov. 3. 20.) is inclined to think, that ripping up women with child, (2 Kin. 8. 12. — 15. 16, &c.) signifieth only to cause Abortion; (I suppose, through Terror and Dread) which, he saith, is a common Phrase, or Proverb, among the Arabians, to signify a very great Slaughter. This is not improbable; for as the renting of the Ground with the sound of those who shouted for Joy (1 Kin. 1. 40.) is a proverbial Way of signifying only a very ש ב ק 221.

[Let this be the Explication.] To seek, to desire and endeavour to find what is lost, procure what is wanting, or obtain what is desired, 1 Sam. 10. 14. 1 Chron. 4. 39. Psal. 27. 4. To seek Information, to enquire, Esth. 2. 23. Dan. 1. 20. To seek by Petition or Request, 2 Sam. 12. 16. Esth. 7. 7. To seek God, or his Face, is to endeavour to obtain his Favour and Blessing, Deut. 4. 29. Psal. 27. 8. Jer. 29. 13. To seek is also to expect and insist upon a Thing's being done or granted, to require, Neb. 5. 18. Ecclef. 3. 15. Isai. 1. 12. To seek a Thing, Person or Blood, at the Hand of any one, is to look to him for it, to expect that he should make it good, or be punished for it, Gen. 31. 39. — 43. 9. 2 Sam. 4. 11. Ezek. 3. 18. To seek is also to endeavour to do a Thing, Deut. 13. 10. 1 Sam. 14. 4. Ecclef. 12. 10. To seek after, to practise, to apply, to addict the Mind to, Psal. 4. 2. Prov. 23. 35. [I will seek it, apply or fall to it, again.] Ecclef. 7. 29. [they have sought out, sought after, applied their Minds, addicted themselves to, many inventions.] Dan. 9. 3. [to seek, to apply myself to, Prayer and Supplication.] Zeph. 2. 3. [seek, apply yourselves to, endeavour to attain and practise righteousness, seek meekness.] To seek after the Soul or Life, is to endeavour to destroy it, 1 Sam. 23. 15. Psal. 54. 3. To seek out, to seek effectually, to find, to procure, 1 Sam. 13. 14. Prov. 11. 27.

[Let this be the Explication.] To separate what sullieth, is impure or droffy: to make clean, pure, clear and bright, by washing, rubbing, polishing, or in any other way: to be clean, pure, clear, Job 9. 30. Isai. 1. 25. — 49. 2. Jer. 4. 11. — 51. 11. Ezek. 20. 38. It is applied, I. To the pure, clear Splendor of the Sun, Cant. 6. 10. II. To the perfect Brightness of the Sky, Job 37. 11. [by watering he wearie the thick cloud.] Unto perfect Brightness he straineth, distendeth, i. e. dissipateth the thick Cloud, his light scattereth the clouds. Schultens.] III. Figuratively, To the Clearness or Perspicuity of Truth or Doctrine, Psal. 19. 8. [the commandment of the Lord is pure, clear, bright, enlightening the eyes.] IV. To the representing of a Thing perspicuously, or the setting of it in a clear Light, Job 33. 3. [shall utter knowledge clearly, perspicuously.] Ecclef. 3. 18. [might manifest, set in a clear Light.] — 9. 1. [to declare all this, to set all this in a clear Light.] V. To purging or purifying in a moral Sense; to be morally clean in Heart or Life, 2 Sam. 22. 21, 27. Psal. 24. 4. Isai. 52. 11. Dan. 11. 35. — 12. 10. VI. To Language religiously pure, Zeph. 3. 9. [will I turn to the people a pure language, a Language agreeable to the Genius of true Religion, free from all impure Mixture of Profaneness, Idolatry, &c.] VII. To whatever is choice, or the freest from what is faulty, N^o 5, 7. Cant. 6. 9.

[After unum pastum, add;] see R. 824. Sign. V. and in the Explication.

[Sign. III. To the Explication add;] But the Word in the following Texts may come from ב ר [R. 223.] with se epenthetic. And then it will signify, (1.) To separate, select, N^o 9. (2.) To clear Ground by removing Trees, Bushes, Rubbish, N^o 10, 11, 13. Ezek. 21. 19. [appoint, clear, thee two ways, lay two Ways open for an Army to march in.] Ezek. 23. 47. [dispatch them, clear them away as Rubbish, with their swords.] Thus ב ר, which we render Corn, R. 222, N^o 6. may very well signify plain, open Ground, cleaned or cleared from Bushes, &c. For Job 37. 11, see R. 223, in the Explication.

ה ג 254.

[Let this be the Explication.] To be high. Applied to the Height of a Man, Tree, Building, Place or Situation; — the Height of the Heavens or Sky; — the high Flight of an Eagle, Job 39. 27. Figuratively, to exalt, or heighten, the gate, or Door of the Mouth, is to use haughty, insolent Language. To be high, superior in Dignity, Excellence, Power, Job 36. 7. Ecclef. 5. 8. Isai. 52. 13. The Heart or Spirit is lifted up or heightened, (1.) In a good Sense, 2 Chron. 17. 6. [his heart was lifted up in the ways of the Lord, by strong Resolution raised above the Influence of any Temptation or Opposition.] (2.) In a bad Sense; when the Heart or Spirit is raised high in Pride and Self-sufficiency, above all due Regard to God or Man.

[the Beasts of the Field had shadow, covering [R. 2301.] under it,] we may judge, that the primary Sense of this Root is to cover or shade, particularly from the Heat of the Sun. Hence, the Dew, which covers, refreshes, and promotes the Growth of Vegetables; and, while it continues, beautifies them with its Drops, as with so many shining Pearls. But when the Sun waxeth hot, it is all exhaled and vanishes away, Hof. 6. 4. Isai. 26. 19. Before the Student advances farther, let him make himself perfect Master of the Names, Sound and Shape of these Letters. But as the Pronunciation of Hebrew is uncertain, he needs not be very solicitous about that, either in the Consonants or the Vowels.

Letters are distinguished by the different Organs of Speech. Those pronounced out of the Throat, are called Gutturals, viz. א ה ח ע; those by the Lips, Labials, ב ו מ פ; by the Palate, Palatins, ג י כ ק; by the Tongue, Linguals, נ ל ט ד נח; by the Teeth, Dentals, ש ז ס צ ר. Letters of the same Organ are often changed one for another.

Of VOWELS and other POINTS.

Vowels in Hebrew are expressed by certain Marks or Dots placed in, under or above the Letters. The following Marks represent the five long Vowels; namely (ֿ) stands for a, as in Father, Water; (ֿ) for ee, as in sweet; (ֿ) for i, as in mine; (ֿ) for o, as in Bone; (ֿ) for u, as in Music.

The following Marks represent the five short Vowels; namely, (ֿ) stands for a, as in art; (ֿ) for e, as in fed; (ֿ) set under any Letter but ' Yod, stands for i, as in Tin; (ֿ or ֿ) for o, as in Nod; (ֿ) for u, as in Dust.

These Marks represent three very short Vowels; namely, (ֿ) stands for a, as in Among; (ֿ) for e, as in Edition; (ֿ) for o, as in Modest.

This Mark (ֿ) represents e, a Vowel extremely short; as in Belong, Darken.

Hebrew, as other oriental Languages, is read from the right Hand to the Left; and the Consonants are pronounced before the Vowels, thus; אֵבֶה va, אֵבֶה vee, אֵבֶה vi, אֵבֶה vo, אֵבֶה vu. בֵּה ba, בֵּה bee, בֵּה bi, בֵּה bo, בֵּה bu. פֵּה fall, פֵּה feel, פֵּה file, פֵּה fome, פֵּה fume. פֵּה pat, פֵּה pet, פֵּה pit, פֵּה pot, פֵּה put. פֵּה pakad, פֵּה davar, פֵּה pagnal, פֵּה sepher, פֵּה tzejakab, פֵּה umab.

But when this Vowel (ֿ) comes under any of these three Letters, ה, ח, ע, then that Vowel must be pronounced before the Consonant under which it stands; as אֵהֶה Eloah, אֵהֶה ruabb, אֵהֶה madduang.

Note,

Easy Rules for Reading Hebrew.

Note, In the long Vowel (י) ' is often left out, and in the long Vowel (ו) ' is often left out; as וָאָבִי waabi, and I brought, for וָאָבִי: and עֲצָמָי gnatz-mothai, my bones, for עֲצָמָי. Hence, when there is no Vowel under ש, or no Vowel under the Letter before ש, then the Dots on either side of ש may stand for the Vowel (o); as שָׂנֵא sonce, hating, מוֹשֶׁה mosheb, Moses.

A Point, or Dot (called Dagesh) in the Middle of any one of these six Letters, ב ג ד כ פ ת, varieth their Sound, as may be seen in the Alphabet; though there is no Necessity, either in Sense or Grammar, for observing this Variation. This is single Dagesh. But sometimes a Dot in the Middle of a Letter is the Characteristic of a Conjugation, or compensates the Defect of a Letter. This is called double Dagesh, because it doubles the Letter in which it is placed, and is essential to Grammar. As פִּקֵּד pikkeed, he visited diligently; מִמַּיִם mimmaim, out of Waters, for מִן מַיִם min, maim. Here it supplies the Defect of the Letter Nun. Note, These Letters ע ה ה א and ר Resh, will not admit of a Dagesh, or Dot in the Middle. But ה at the End of a Word sometimes takes this Dot, thus הֵ; which makes it emphatical, or shews that it is to be sounded stronger than without it.

As the (e) in darken is not sounded in darkned; so the extremely short Vowel (י) is not sounded when it follows another short Vowel, as קָמַת kamta, not kameta; except it be under a Letter which is doubled by a Dot in the Middle; for then it is to be sounded, though it do follow a short Vowel; as פִּקְדוּ pakkedu. When two of these extremely short Vowels come together in the Middle of a Word, the first is silent, and the second only is sounded, as נִפְקְדוּ niphkedu, not niphkedu. But at the End of a Word this Vowel is not sounded at all; not even when two of them come together; as קָמַת kampt.

OF NOUNS.

Nouns are Masculine and Feminine, singular, dual and plural; Substantives and Adjectives: but Cases are not distinguished by different Terminations.

Masculine Nouns form the dual Number by adding אִם a-im, the plural, by adding ים im, to the singular, as יוֹם yom, a Day, in the dual Number יוֹמֵי yoma-im two Days, in the plural יָמִים yamim Days.

Feminine Nouns end most frequently in ה or ת, and form the dual Number, by changing ה into ת, and adding אִם a-im; as שָׁנָה shanab a Year, שָׁנֹת shenatba-im, two Years. But the Plural is formed by changing ה or ת into וֹת oth; as שָׁנָה shanab, a Year, שָׁנוֹת shenoth, Years.

Adjectives are made Feminine by adding ה to the Masculine; as גָּדוֹל gadol, great, mascul. גְּדוֹלָה gedolah, great, feminine. טוֹב tov, good, mascul. טוֹבָה tovab, good, fem. In the Plural טוֹבוֹת tovoth.

When two Substantives come together, the latter of which in Latin is the Genitive Case, the former in Hebrew is said to be in Construction, or in Regimen; and in that Form suffers a Change either in the Letters or Vowels of its absolute Form, both in the singular and plural Numbers. Thus דָּבָר davar, a Word, is in the absolute Form; יְהוָה devar Yehowab the Word of Jehovah; here it is in Construction. In the Plural, דְּבָרִים devarim, Words; in Construction רִבְקָה divree Rivkab, the Words of Rebekah. So זַיִת zaith, an Olive; in Construction זֵית zeeth. Plur. זֵיתִים; in Construct. זֵיתִי zeetbee. מִקְנֵה mikneb, a Possession; construct. מִקְנֵה. Plur. מִקְנֵי; Construct. מִקְנֵי.

Nouns Feminine in Construction, in the singular change ה into ת; thus, צְדָקָה tzedakab, righteousness; in Construction צְדָקַת תָּמִים tzidkath tamim, the righteousness of the perfect. Plur. צְדָקוֹת in Construction צְדָקוֹת יְהוָה tzidkoth Yehowab, the righteousnesses of the Lord. So שִׁפְחָה shiph khab a Maid-servant; in Construction שִׁפְחָת. Plur. שִׁפְחוֹת; in Construction שִׁפְחוֹת עֵצָה gneetzab, Counsel; in Construction עֵצָה. Plur. עֵצוֹת; in Construction עֵצוֹת.

But in the singular Number several Nouns suffer no Change when in Construction.

OF PRONOUNS.

The Pronouns personal are these which follow; namely,

I	ani , or anochi	אֲנִי, אֲנוּכִי
Thou, masc.	attab	אַתָּה
Thou, fem.	at	אַתְּ
He	bu	הוּא
She	bi	הִיא
We	anabbnu , or nabbnu	אֲנַחְנוּ, נֶחְנוּ
Ye, masc.	attem	אַתֶּם
Ye, fem.	atten	אַתְּנָן
They, masc.	beem	הֵם
They, fem.	been	הֵנָּה

These Pronouns, being contracted, or otherwise altered, are joined to the Ends of Nouns, Verbs, &c. In which Situation they are called Affixes or Suffixes, and after Nouns take the Signification of Pronouns possessive, my, thy, his, our, your, their. Thus, אֲנִי ani, I, is contracted into י i, אֲנִי ani, אֲנִי eeni, and after Nouns plural into י ai, me, my, mine; as דְּבָרִי debari, my Word; זִכְרֹתִי zekhartani, remember me; לְאַבְדֵנִי leabbedeeni, to destroy me; דְּבָרֵי debarai, my Words.

אַתָּה attab, thou, masc. is changed into ה kba, and sometimes, but rarely, into ה khab, thee, thy, thine; יִפְקְדֶךָ Yipbkodkba, he shall visit thee; דְּבָרְךָ deborka, thy Word; דְּבָרֶיךָ debarekba, thy Words; אֶתְּךָ othakbab, unto thee.

אַתְּ at, thou, fem. is changed into ת eebb, or (rarely) כִּי kbi, and in the Plural into תְּ ayikk, thee, thy, thine; as יִפְקְדֶתְךָ yipbkadeekk, he shall visit thee; דְּבָרֶתְךָ debareekk, thy Word; בְּתוֹכְךָ betbokbeekkbi, in the Midst of thee; דְּבָרֶיךָ debarayikk, thy Words.

הוּא bu, he, is contracted into ו o, הוּא bu, הוּא ennu, and in the Plural into ו u, him, his; as דְּבָרָו devaro, his Word; וְאַהֲבָהוּ waohabebhu, and I loved him; יֹאכְלֵנוּ Yokbelemn, shall devour him; דְּבָרָאוּ debaraw, his Words.

הִיא bi, she, is contracted or changed into ה ba, ה abb, ה ennab, her, hers; as זְרוּעֶיהָ zerugneba, the Sowings of her or it; דְּבָרָהּ debarabb, her Word; יֹאכְלֶנָּה yokbelemnab, shall eat it.

אֲנַחְנוּ anabbnu, we, is contracted into נוּ eenu, נוּ anu, us, our, ours; as אֲדֹנֵינוּ adoneenu, our Master; דְּבָרָנוּ debaranu, our Word; דְּבָרֵינוּ debareenu, our Words.

אַתֶּם

Easy Rules for Reading Hebrew.

אתם attem, ye, masc. is changed into בם khem, you, your; as דברכם devorchem, your Word; דבריכם divreekbem, your Words.

את atten, ye, fem. is changed into כן khen, you, your; as דברכן devorkhen, your Word, דריכן divreekhen, your Words.

הם beem, they, masc. is changed, or contracted into ם am, הם bem, ם eem, ם m, מו mo, them, their; as דברם their Word; דבריהם their Words; פקדם visit them; אהבום they have loved them; פקדתי I visited them. שפתיהם shephatbeemo, their Lips; יאכלמו yokbeleemo, shall consume them.

הן been, they, fem. is contracted or changed into ן an, הן ben, them, their; as דברן devaran, their Word; דריהן divreeken, their Words.

Of V E R B S.

Conjugations in Latin and Greek are different ways of declining different Verbs: but in Hebrew, Conjugations are different ways of declining the same Verb, as the Force or Signification of it alters.

Verbs have four Conjugations, I. Kal, in which the Signification of a Verb is simply active; as פקד he visited. And this third Person of the Preter Tense, generally consisting of three Consonants, is the Root from whence all other Conjugations, Moods and Tenses, of the same Verb are derived. Niphal is the Passive of this Conjugation. II. Pibel, in which the Signification of the Verb is more emphatical, and includeth the Notion of doing a Thing with Care and Diligence, or effectually; as in Kal, שבר he broke, in Pibel, שבר shibbeer, he broke all to pieces. The Passive of this Conjugation is Pubal. III. Hipbil, which signifieth, to cause another to do a Thing, or to make it to be done; as in Kal, מלך malakh, he reigned, in Hipbil, המליך himlikh, he made to reign. The Passive of this Conjugation is Hupbal or Hophal. IV. Hithpabel, which signifieth, to act upon ones self *, either really or in pretence, or intensely; as in Kal, קדש he made holy; in Hithpabel, התקדש hithkaddesh, he made himself holy, or he pretended to be holy, or he made very holy, or he made himself very holy. This Conjugation hath no corresponding Passive.

Verbs have three Moods; the Indicative, Imperative, and Infinitive: their Signification is the same as in other Languages.

Verbs have but two Tenses; the Preter Tense, which signifieth any Time past; and the Future, which signifieth any Time to come. It is also used to denote the Continuance of doing a Thing; or that it is customary, possible, lawful, reasonable, or desirable to do it.

Participles are two. I. The Participle of the present Tense, called בנוני Beenoni, i. e. intermediate; because it denotes the Time between the Past and Future; as פוקד visiting. This Participle is also used, (1.) Instead of the present Tense; as אני פוקד ani pokeed, I am visiting, or do visit. (2.) It is used as a Noun Substantive to denote an Employment or Profession; as שוקר one that watcheth, a Watchman; יצר one that shapeth Vessels, a Potter. II. The Participle of the preterperfect Tense, or passive Participle, called by the technical Name of Pabul. This Participle is used for the preter Tense passive; as הוא פוקד bu pakud, he is visited.

* From this Conjugation in the Hebrew, the Greeks seem to have taken their middle Voice; which properly denotes the Action which a Person exerts upon himself, and in which he is both Agent and Patient: as λαβαίνο se lavarunt. Vide Lud. Kufter. De usu verborum mediorum, Edit. Lond. 1750.

The properest Method, in my Opinion, of ranging Moods and Tenses would be this; (1.) The Indicative Mood, present Tense. (2.) Future Tense. (3.) Imperative Mood. (4.) Infinitive Mood. (5.) Participle Benoni. (6.) Participle Pabul. But as Buxtorf in the Concordance hath thrown them into a different Order, I am obliged to follow that.

§ Note, In the Hebrew Verbs, Gender, or the Difference of Sex, is expressed in some of the Persons.

|| Note, פָּעַל was the old Example of declining regular Verbs: but a very improper one; not only as the Letter פ is differently pronounced, and by some not pronounced at all, but because it will not admit a Dagesh, or Point in the Middle, in those Conjugations that require it. Therefore פָּקַד is now used instead of פָּעַל. Yet, excepting Kal, all the Conjugations take their Names, Niphal, Pibel, Pubal, Hipbil, Hophal, Hithpabel, from the third Person singular of the Preter Tense of פָּעַל, the old Example, in every Conjugation. But it would have been a good Help to the Memory, if the several Conjugations had been named from פָּקַד, the new Example; thus, Nipbkad, Pikheed, Pukkad, Hipbkid, Hopbkad, Hithpakheed. For thus, the third Person singular, being made the Name of every Conjugation, would have been remember'd in its proper Form, which would have made the Declining of Verbs still more easy.

The Formation of this Conjugation should be well observed; because all the Rest, whether regular or irregular, are formed in the same Manner. Note, The Point in פ, when it begins a Syllable, as פִּקֵּד, פִּקְדָה, &c. only hardens the Sound of פ, but hath no relation to the Forming the Verb; and therefore if that Point were left out, the Sense and Formation of the Verb would still be the same.

† For bippakeed. And so to the End of this Conjugation; the first radical Letter is doubled, because the Letter נ Nun is left out, for the Sake of a better Sound.

Note; The Point, or Dagesh, in פ, the first Letter of the Root, in the Infinitive Mood and Future Tense of Niphal, cannot be omitted; but must be either expressed or understood; because it supplieth the Defect of the Characteristic נ, (which is left out of all the Persons of that Mood and Tense,) by doubling the first Letter of the Root*. Therefore, in the Infinitive Mood and Future Tense of Niphal there must be a Dot or Point in the first Letter of every Root, which will admit of a Point.

The second Conjugation PIHEL, or Pikkeed.

The Characteristic of this Conjugation is a Point or Dagesh, in the second Radical Letter, which makes the Word to be sounded more strongly and emphatically.

The fourth Conjugation HITHPAHEL, or Hithpakkeed.

It is formed by prefixing hith to the first Letter of the Root, and by putting a Dagesh in the middle Radical, as in the Conjugation Pibel, or Pikkeed.

PRETER TENSE.

he visited himself	hithpakkeed	הִתְפַּקֵּד
she visited herself	hithpakkedab	הִתְפַּקְדָּה
thou visit. thyself, masc.	hithpakkadta	הִתְפַּקַּדְתָּ

ye visit. yourselves, f.	hithpakkadten	הִתְפַּקַּדְתֶּן
we visited ourselves	hithpakkadnu	הִתְפַּקַּדְנוּ

PARTICIPLE Benoni.

visiting himself	mithpakkeed	מִתְפַּקֵּד
visiting herself.	mithpakkedab, or mithpakkedeth	מִתְפַּקְדָּה מִתְפַּקְדֶּת
visiting themselves, m.	mithpakkedim	מִתְפַּקְדִּים

INFINITIVE.

to visit himself	hithpakkeed	הִתְפַּקֵּד
------------------	--------------------	-------------

IMPERATIVE.

visit thou thyself, masc.	hithpakkeed	הִתְפַּקֵּד
visit thou thyself, f.	hithpakkedi	הִתְפַּקְדִּי

visit ye yourselves, f.	hithpakkeedenab	הִתְפַּקְדְּנָהּ

FUTURE TENSE.

I will visit myself	ethpakkeed	אֶתְפַּקֵּד
thou wilt v. thyself, m.	tithpakkeed	תִּתְפַּקֵּד
thou wilt v. thyself, f.	tithpakkedi	תִּתְפַּקְדִּי

Thus we have declined the four Conjugations in the Instance of פָּקַד. And all regular Verbs (or such as keep their three radical Letters in all Conjugations and Tenses) are declined in the same Manner, by putting the three Letters of the Root in the Place of פָּקַד: as, לָמַד he learned, לָכַד he seized, מָכַר he sold, סָבַל he carried, שָׁמַר he kept. Only in the Case of those two last Verbs, and of all others, whose first radical Letter is ס Samech, שׁ Shin or שׁ Sin, such Letters in the Conjugation Hithpabel change Places with ת, the Formative of that Conjugation; and, instead of standing after, stand before it; in this manner, הִשְׁתַּבֵּל bishtabbeel, הִשְׁתַּמֵּר bishtammeer, instead of הִתְשַׁבֵּל, הִתְשַׁמֵּר.

הִתְשַׁמֵּר. Observe further; when the first Radical is צ tzade, the Formative ת in Hithpabel is not only transposed, as above, but moreover charged into ט teth; thus, צָרַק, in Hithpabel הִצְטָרַק for הִתְצָרַק. Again; when the first Radical is ר, ט or ת, the Formative ת is omitted, and the Omission is supplied by a Point, or Dagesh, in the next Letter; which Point doubles that Letter, as וַיִּדְבָּא weyddakēu, and they are crushed, for וַיִּתְדָבָא weythdakēu.

Of irregular VERBS.

Irregular or imperfect Verbs are commonly divided into quiescent and defective. (1.) Quiescent Verbs are such as have among their Radicals one or more of the four Letters 'א ה ו'; any one of which being excluded in the Declining of a Verb, the Absence of the Letter is supplied by a long Vowel. Or the Letter may be considered as changed into a long Vowel; as יָשַׁב for יִישַׁב. (2.) Defective Verbs are those in which a deficient נ Nun, or the deficient second Radical, in Verbs which double the second Radical, (as סָבַב) are compensated by a Dagesh; as נָגַשׁ, in the Future אֶנְגַּשׁ, for אֶנְגַּשׁ engash; סָבַב, in the third Person, סִבְּבָה for סָבְבָה. This is the general Idea of those Verbs; the particular Manner of declining them may be seen in the following Examples.

I. QUIESCENT VERBS.

1. An Example of a Quiescent Verb, whose first Radical is ' yod'; as יָשַׁב he sat.

Of servile L E T T E R S.

The Letters of the Hebrew Alphabet are divided into Radical and Servile.

The Radix or Root is, generally, the third Person singular of the Preter Tense of Kal, consisting of three Letters, which therefore are called Radicals; as, פָּקַד pakad, he visited, לָמַד lamad, he learned. From this Root are formed Conjugations, Moods, Tenses, Persons, and verbal Nouns, by the Addition of other Letters before, between, or after the Radicals; which Letters so added are called Servile.

These eleven Letters א ב ג ד ה ו ז ח ט י כ ל מ נ ס ע פ צ ק ר ש ת are always radical, and never servile. The other eleven Letters, נ י ה י ו י ה י ב א, are sometimes radical, or make one or more of the three Letters, which constitute the Root, but very often are servile. Their Use and Force, as Serviles, is here explained in Alphabetical Order.

א

The Letter א Aleph is servile, 1. As it is the Formative of the first Person singular of all future Tenses, in all Verbs and Conjugations, as אֶפְקֹד ephkod, I shall visit, &c. 2. As it formeth beemantic Nouns, or is one of the Letters, הָאֲמִנִּיתִי, some of which, being set before, between or after the radical Letters, turns Roots into Nouns, which therefore are called Heemantic, or verbal Nouns; as אֶצְבַּע etzbang, a Finger, from the Root צָבַע tzabang. 3. It is sometimes put at the End of Nouns instead of ה he; as מַטְרָא mattera, a Prison, for מַטְרָה. 4. א is sometimes paragogic, or is added to the End of Words only for the Sake of Ornament; as פָּקְדוּא pakedu, they visited.

* Thus I have given at large the Declining of all Sorts of Hebrew Verbs, regular and irregular, in all Moods, Tenses, Numbers, Persons, and the Terminations of all Participles in all Tenses, Numbers, Genders and Cases. At first View, this Part of Grammar may seem to be tedious and prolix; but it is, in fact, much more concise, than the Declining of Verbs, regular and irregular, in both active and passive Voices, through the four Conjugations in Latin: and vastly more compendious than in Greek. For, a single Hebrew Verb, as פָּקַד, declined as above, fills but two Hundred and six Lines; whereas a Greek Verb, in one Conjugation, declined at large in the same Manner, in the Active, Passive, and Middle Voices, would fill about thirteen Hundred and ten Lines: and Greek Verbs in all the thirteen Conjugations, of Barytones, contracted Verbs, and Verbs in μ, so declined and printed, would take up a prodigious Number of Lines. Add to this, the tedious Inflections of Greek Nouns, Substantives and Adjectives (with the Comparison of the latter) and of Pronouns, which either are not declined, or have no Place in Hebrew, and Hebrew must be allowed to be by far the easier Language to learn.

Easy Rules for Reading Hebrew.

ב

ב Beth is servile, 1. When set at the Beginning of a Word as a Preposition, signifying in, by, with, for, &c. as בְּרֵאשִׁית bereeshith, in the Beginning. 2. It is put before the Infinitive Mood, importing when a Thing is done, or in doing; as בִּפְקֹדוֹ biphkedo, in his visiting, or when he visited. 3. It takes to itself the Affixes; as בוּ bo, in him, בָּךְ bekba, in thee, בָּהֶם babem, in them.

ה

ה He is servile, 1. When prefixed to a Participle, it signifieth who or which; as הַפֹּקֵד happokeed, who is visiting, or visiteth. 2. It is demonstrative, importing this or that; as הַבַּיִת habbayith, this house. 3. It is interrogative; as הֲאֵנִי ha ani, what I? 4. It is the Formative of the Conjugations Hipbil and Hophal in the Preter Tense, the Imperative and Infinitive Moods; as הִפְקִיד biphkid, he made to visit, &c. הִפְקִיד bophkad, he was made to visit, &c. 5. It is the Mark of the Imperative and Infinitive of Niphal; as הִפְקֵד bippakeed, be thou visited, הִפְקֵד bippakeed, to be visited. 6. Joined with ת in the Syllable הִת it is the Characteristic of the Conjugation Hithpael; as הִתְפַּקֵּד bithpakkeed, he visited himself. 7. It forms beemantic Nouns; [see before under the Letter א.] as הַסֶּכֶל bassekkel, Folly; from סָכַל sakbal. 8. Set at the End, after the Radicals, it forms Feminine Substantives, as יְשׁוּעָה yeshugnab, Salvation, from יָשַׁע yashang, he saved. 9. It forms some Feminine Persons in Verbs, as the third Person singular of every Preter Tense, the Feminine singular of all the Participles, the Feminine plural of all the Imperatives, and the second and third Persons plural of all the Future Tenses. [See all the foregoing Examples of Verbs, both regular and irregular.] 10. It is sometimes paragoric, or added over and above, to lengthen out a Word, or for Ornament sake; as פָּקַדְתָּהּ pakadtah instead of פָּקַדְתָּ pakadta. חֹבְסָהּ bbusab, spare thou, for חֹבְסָהּ bbus. הוֹשֵׁהָ bbushab, make hast, for הוֹשֵׁה bbush.

ו

The Letter ו Wau is servile, 1. At the Beginning of a Word as a Conjunction, and, or, therefore, &c. as וּמַטֵּה umatteeb, and the Rod, וְהַנֶּגֶב webannegeb, and the South. 2. It is conversive; that is to say, ו being prefixed to a Verb of the Preter Tense, doth often turn it into the Signification of the Future Tense; as הָיָה hayah, he hath been, וְהָיָה wehayah, and he shall be. On the contrary, ו being prefixed to a Verb of the Future Tense often turns it into the Signification of the Preter Tense; as יִמְרֹד yimrod, he will rebel, וַיִּמְרֹד wayimrod, and he rebelled. 3. ו the long o, and ו the long u, following one or more servile Letters at the Beginning of a Verb, do shew that י yod, the first radical Letter of that Verb is deficient. For Roots having י yod for their first Radical, do change י yod into ו the long o in the Conjugations Niphal and Hipbil; and into ו the long u in the Conjugation Hophal; as from יָשַׁב yashab, he sat, comes נוֹשַׁב noshab in Niphal, הוֹשַׁב hoshab in Hipbil, and הוֹשַׁב busbab in Hophal. [See above in the Formation of those three Conjugations under י yod.] So likewise in beemantic Nouns formed from Roots, whose first

Vol. II.

Radical is י, that י is changed into ו the long o; as מוֹשַׁב moshab, a Seat, from the Root יָשַׁב yashab, he sat. 4. In such Verbs as double the second Radical, ו the long o is always taken in before the final Terminations of the first and second Persons singular and plural, in the Preter Tenses of the Conjugations Kal, Niphal, Hipbil, and Hophal; as from סָבַב sabab, he beset, סָבַבְתָּ thou hast beset, &c. [See the Formation of סָבַב.] 5. ו the long u, immediately after the Radicals, forms the third Person plural of the Preter and Future Tenses, and the second Person plural of the Future and Imperative Tenses, and after נ nun, (thus נִי nu) it forms the first Person plural in the Preter Tenses in all Conjugations regular or irregular. 6. ו the long o, affixed to the Radicals, is the Pronoun of the third Person singular masculine; as דְּבָרוֹ debaro, his Word.

י

The Letter י Yod, 1. Serves, being put before the Radicals, to form the third Person masculine, singular and plural, of all Future Tenses. 2. י yod, being put between the two last radical Letters, is the Characteristic of the Conjugation Hipbil in all regular, and in some of the irregular Verbs. 3. Verbs whose second Radical is ו wau, in the Conjugation Hipbil change ו wau into י yod. [See above in the Formation of קוּם kum.] 4. Verbs that have ה he for their third Radical do change ה into י yod in the first and second Persons singular and plural in all the Preter Tenses; and in the second Person plural Feminine, in all the Imperatives; and in the second and third Persons plural Feminine, in all the Future Tenses. As may be seen in the Formation of נָלַה. 5. י yod at the Beginning and in the Middle forms beemantic Nouns; as יֵצֶהָר yitzhar, Oil, from the Root צָהַר tzahar. י yod, at the End, forms numeral Nouns; as שְׁנִי sheni, the second, שְׁלִישִׁי shilleshi, the third, &c. and national Names; as עִבְרִי Gnibri, an Hebrew; Feminine עִבְרִית Gnibrith, or עִבְרִיָּה Gnibriyah, a Hebrewess. 6. י yod after the Radicals forms the second Person singular of all Imperatives and Futures. See the Formation of those Tenses in the Examples above. 7. י yod at the End of a Word is frequently the Pronoun of the first Person singular; as דְּבָרִי debari, my Word. 8. י yod at the End of a Word is sometimes paragoric; as תִּמְלֵאִי timmaleei, for תִּמְלֵא timmalee, thou shalt be filled.

כ

כ Caph at the Beginning of a Word, 1. Is a Note of Similitude, as, like as, according to, &c. as, כְּבַתְּחִלָּה kbebattehillah, as at the First. [See כ, Root 816, in the Concordance.] 2. It is put before the Infinitive Mood, after the same Manner as the Letter ב; [see ב above,] as כְּכַלְלוֹתוֹ kekallotho, juxta absolvere eum, according to his to make an End; or, according to his making an End, i. e. as soon as he had made an End. 3. When affixed to the End of the Radicals, it is the Pronoun of the second Person singular; as דְּבָרְךָ deborkha, thy Word. [See above, under the Pronoun.]

Easy Rules for Reading Hebrew.

ל Lamed is servile only at the Beginning of Words; and, 1. As a Preposition, signifying to, unto, of, upon, &c. 2. It is a Note of the Dative, sometimes of the Genitive and Accusative Cases. 3. It is frequently prefixed to the Infinitive Mood; as לִפְקֹד lipkod, to visit. 4. It takes after it Affixes, after the Manner of Nouns; as, לִי li, to me, לְךָ lekha, to thee, &c. [See ל, Root 920, in the Concordance.]

מ

מ Mem is servile, 1. At the Beginning of Words, when it is put for the Preposition מִן min, from; as, מִבְּאֵר mibbor, from the Pit. 2. It forms the Comparative Degree; as טוֹב מִבָּלָק tob mibbalak, good before Balak, i. e. better than Balak. 3. It is set before the Infinitive; as, מִפְקֹד mipkod, from visiting. 4. It forms beemantic Nouns, as מִזְמוֹר mizmor, a Psalm, from זָמַר zimmeer, to sing; מְלוֹן malon, a lodging Place, from לוֹן lun, to lodge. 5. It is the Formative of all Participles, excepting those of Kal and Niphal. [See the above Formation of Verbs.] 6. It serves as an Affix several Ways, especially as it denotes the Pronouns of the third Person plural. [See the Pronouns.]

נ

נ Nun serves, 1. At the Beginning, as the Mark of the Conjugation Niphal in the Preter Tense, and in the Participle Benoni. 2. It is the Mark of the first Person plural of all the Future Tenses. 3. At the End of Verbs joined with ה, (thus נָה nab) it forms the second Person plural Feminine of all the Imperatives, and the second and third Persons plural Feminine of all the Future Tenses. 4. Joined with ו, the long u, (thus נוּ nu) it forms the first Person plural of all the Preter Tenses. 5. It is often paragogic at the End of such Verbs as end in ו or י. פָּקְדוֹן pakedun, for פָּקְדוּ pakedu; פִּקְדִּין pikdin, for פִּקְדִי pikdi. 6. נ is beemantic, at the Beginning, forming chiefly proper Names; as נַפְתָּלִי Naphtbali, from נָתַל pathal. And at the End; as, שִׁבְרוֹן shibbaron, a Breach, from שָׁבַר shabar. 7. It is a Pronoun Affix, either alone; as in דָּבָרָן, their Word: or joined with other servile Letters; as, נִי, נו, נָה, כֵּן, הֵן. See above in the Pronoun Affixes.

ש

ש Sin, when radical, is sometimes put for ס samech, and ס samech for ש sin. But ש shin is servile only at the Beginning of a Word, when it is contracted for the Pronoun אֲשֶׁר asher, who, which, that, because, &c. as שְׁעָלוּ shegnalu, who ascended. שְׁקַמְתִּי shakamti, until that I arose.

ת

ת Thau serves, 1. At the Beginning to form the second Persons singular and plural, masculine and feminine, and the third Persons singular and plural, feminine, in the Future Tense of all Conjugations; as, תִּפְקֹדְךָ, תִּפְקֹדְךָ, תִּפְקֹדְךָ, תִּפְקֹדְךָ. 2. At the End it forms, alone or with other Serviles, the first and second Persons singular, and the second Person plural in the Preter Tense of all Conjugations; as, פָּקַדְתָּ, פָּקַדְתָּ, פָּקַדְתִּי, פָּקַדְתֶּם, פָּקַדְתֶּן. 3. At the End it forms the Feminine Gender in Nouns and Participles; as, תּוֹרַת, a Law, פּוֹקֶדֶת, visiting, fem. 4. ת at the Beginning forms beemantic Nouns; as, תַּלְמִיד talmid, a Scholar, from לָמַד lamad, he learned: as also at the End of Words; as, מַלְכוּת malcutb, a Kingdom, from מָלַךְ malakh, he reigned.

Thus much may be easily read. And being read over often and carefully will be well understood. What is wanting may be supplied from almost any Grammar, English or Latin. But Israel Lyons's Hebrew Grammar in English, printed at Cambridge in the Year 1735, is printed with the best Character, and in the clearest and most beautiful Manner; which is a great Advantage to a Learner.

Note; If there should be any other Errors in the Quotations, they may be easily corrected by looking for the English Word, to which the Quotation belongs, in a good English Concordance. For Example; Root 190: 3, it is in the Concordance erroneously printed thus: and comfort myself, Job 8. 27. But there the Words, and comfort myself, cannot be found; therefore, look for the Word, comfort, in the English Concordance, and you will be directed to find them in Job 9. 27. And so in any other Case.
